A screenshot of a web page for adding comments. The page has a dark theme with a black background. At the top, there is a dark gray header bar containing a yellow hamburger menu icon on the left. The title "Comment ..." is displayed in a bold, yellow font in the upper center. Below the title are three input fields, each with a yellow label above it: "Name:", "Date:", and "Comment:". Below these fields is a yellow button labeled "Add Comment". At the bottom of the page, there is a large, dark gray rounded rectangular area labeled "Comments will be displayed here" in a small, yellow font. The overall layout is simple and centered.
